

LEADING THE WAY IN SUSTAINABLE URBAN AGRICULTURE

CONNECT WITH US

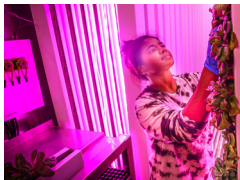

Fresh and Healthy Food

Food Security

Economic Development

Education

The Barrett Centre of Innovation in Sustainable Urban Agriculture (The Barrett Centre) is an internationally recognized hub of excellence in urban agriculture, addressing some of society's biggest challenges to create sustainable and scalable models within local food systems.

Join our community of urban farmers to access to everything The Barrett Centre has to offer! From farming models, best practices, seasonal produce recipes, ongoing research, community connections, and more!

If you are interested in learning more about The Barrett Centre please contact us directly at Barrett.Centre@durhamcollege.ca